FRANCE DOESN'T WANT GERMANY IN THE LEAGUE

Government "Unalterably Opposed" to Admitting Conquered Nation at the Present Time

MAY WITHDRAW DELEGATES IF GERMANY IS ADMITTED

Britain Will Back France in Claim of Paris News-papers

GENEVA, Switzerland.—By The Associated Press.—The secretary of the league nations Friday received Austria's formal application for admission to the league.

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—The French government is unalterably opposed to the admission of Germany to the league of nations at this time, it was stated at the foreign office today. Some "drastic action" would be a consequence if the league were to admit Germany, it was intimated.

Discussing the admission of enemy countries to the league of nations, the Echo de Paris declares Great Britain has so far as Germany is concerned, made a formal promise not to favor the removal of the interdiction against that country for the time being. Georges Lyautey, the French premier, is declared by the newspapers to have recommended that French delegates at the meeting of the assembly of the league at Geneva withdraw if Germany is admitted over the protest of France.

"As for Austria and Bulgaria," the newspaper adds, "one is inclined to take toward them a more lenient attitude, in view of conditions."

Japs Get Instructions

TOKIO.—By The Associated Press.—Japanese delegates now in Geneva to attend the meeting of the assembly of the league of nations have been given wide discretion regarding their equality proposals, says the Asahi Shimbun of Osaka. The opinion of the cabinet is said to be divided between the conviction that the present time is inopportune for such proposals and the fear that otherwise nations might take political advantage of the situation.

AUTHORITIES PROBE PAPER'S SOLUTION OF MYSTERY BLAST

Attorney to Question Men Named in Story Published in New York World

NEW YORK.—District Attorney Edward Swan planned Friday to question all those mentioned by the Evening World Thursday in its "solution" of the Wall street explosion here on Sept. 16, the motive of which was declared by the newspaper to have been revenge on the part of members of a house wreckers' union against a rival organization headed by Robert F. Brindell, a central figure in the "building trust" investigation under way here.

PUBLICATION of the Evening World analysis of the tragedy brought forth other theories of its origin from the police and department of justice officials.

Mr. Swan said he was particularly anxious to question Raymond Clark, lieutenant on the house wrecking job diagonally across from the scene of the explosion, and who was quoted at length in Thursday's Evening World article. He said Clark's statement to the newspaper was at variance with a previous statement by him to Assistant District Attorney Alfred E. Tully after the explosion.

The Evening World story placed blame on individual members of the house wrecking union, and the newspaper, under the leadership of Brindell, had superseded them on the house wrecking job at the corner Wall and Broad streets. The story claimed that the explosion was planned by these men in retaliation to what they considered unfair advantage taken by the building trust.

Coincident with the Evening World story, came an announcement that the identity of the farmer who shot the horse which drew the explosives-laden wagon into the financial district, has been established as well as that of the person who took the horse to be shot. Search for this man, who vanished since the explosion, is being made.

SUGAR MARKET WEAK

NEW YORK.—Continued weakness prevails in the local raw sugar market, and Friday prices again made new low records for the season with San Domingo and Porto Rican sugar selling on the basis of 6.77 cent centrifugal representing a decline of a quarter of a cent from the close yesterday.

PRISONERS IN CORK JAIL CALL OFF HUNGER STRIKE ON THE 94TH DAY OF FAST

CORK.—(By the Associated Press.)—The hunger strike of the nine Irish prisoners in the Cork jail was called off Friday, the ninety-fourth day. This was revealed when a message received by Lord Mayor O'Callaghan from Arthur Griffiths, founder of the Sinn Fein organization, was given out. "I am of the opinion," reads the message, "that our countrymen in the Cork prison have sufficiently proved their devotion and fidelity and that they should now, as they were prepared to die for Ireland, prepare again to live for her." This message has been transmitted to the nine surviving hunger strikers in the jail.

The condition of the Cork hunger strikers was described as "shockingly low" in a letter made public earlier in the day by Bishop Cohanah. of Cork, in which he voiced a strong appeal that the strike be called off immediately. He expressed the belief that it was still possible to nurse the men back to health.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney accomplished the purpose of attracting world attention," he added. "The nation got value for his life, but the continuance of the present strike is only a waste."

HARDING PROCLAIMS FOREIGN POLICY IN ARMISTICE DAY TALK

Advocates Protection of American Citizens "Wherever They are"

BROWNSVILLE, Tex.—In his first formal address as president-elect at an Armistice Day celebration here Thursday afternoon, Senator Harding interpreted America's participation in the world war as a defense of national rights which revealed for the first time the American soul and united all sections and classes.

"Only the productive development of peace made the United States equal to the emergency of war," he said, touching upon the subject of preparedness. "We must be ever strong in peace, foremost in industry, eminent in agriculture, ample in transportation. I like to think of an America whose citizens are ever seeking the greater development and enlarged resources and widened influence of the republic and I like to think of a government which protects its citizens everywhere."

The significance of this last sentence was not lost by the senator's Texas audience, made up of border folk anxious over rumors of plots in Mexico to prevent the inauguration as president of Gen. Oregon.

As in his short rear platform speeches on his way here after the election, Senator Harding displayed a new note in his address, if anything, he showed more restraint than in his pre-election speeches.

He had little to say about the administration of governmental affairs during the last seven years, and the message that he sought to drive home was now that the election is all over and must unite for the furtherance of American development rather than the success of political parties.

"Only to Go On," he said, "independent and free, untrammelled and unimpaired, we choose no alliances, we shrink from no obligations, we forsake no friends, we never have and we never will, we never fraternize, we wish amicable relations everywhere, we offer peace, but we demand our freedom and our own America."

"These men," Senator Harding said, pointing to soldiers in uniform and members of the American Legion in his audience, "believe that the nation worth fighting for is good enough to live in, and good enough to live for, and having wrought the miracle of development in a century and a third, it is yet destined to write the supreme triumph in human progress."

VETERANS OF FIRST DIVISION CELEBRATE SIGNING OF TRUCE

CAMP DIN N. J.—Military pomp and order yielded to the picturesque in the parade and review of First division veterans celebrating the armistice signing here Thursday.

Winning through arches commemorating the dead, the division staged a number of elaborate and colorful plans for making the principle of the saving and investment of money a permanent and compulsory part of the American public school curriculum and for the use of government savings securities as the practical medium for applying those principles.

The committee of educators, appointed at the National Education Association convention at Salt Lake City last July, will confer with Secretary Hous-ton during its stay in Washington.

ADVOCATE THRIFT AS PART OF U. S. SCHOOL COURSES

WASHINGTON.—Officials of the savings division of the treasury department conferred here Friday with a number of educators regarding plans for making the principle of the saving and investment of money a permanent and compulsory part of the American public school curriculum and for the use of government savings securities as the practical medium for applying those principles.

The committee of educators, appointed at the National Education Association convention at Salt Lake City last July, will confer with Secretary Hous-ton during its stay in Washington.

TRUE DEMOCRACY IS HELD NEED IN TALKS ON ARMISTICE DAY

Preservation of National Groups Pleaded for by Prof. Miller of U. of W.

MEETING HELD IN YEOMEN HALL BECAUSE OF WEATHER

Bravery of Untried American Soldiers Lauded by Rev. Dixon

A plea for true democracy and preservation of the national groups that constitute the United States was the keynote of the speeches at the Armistice day celebration in Yeomen hall yesterday afternoon.

The cold weather prevented holding of the celebration in Riverside park and almost at the last moment it was decided to have the speeches made in Yeomen hall. Despite the sudden change in plans the hall was well filled. Mayor Bentley was chairman of the meeting and introduced the speakers.

In a brief commemorative address the Rev. E. C. Dixon said in part: "During the war everything but one thing was most severely criticised. The one thing never criticised was the character of the service rendered by our American troops. American youth never failed in camp or on the battle field."

"Military was never our ideal but we have always been able to furnish the best of fighting material when the call for it came. Our small army was in the best of condition for its Mexican border experiences but it was pitifully small and 4,000 miles from the seat of war."

Not Sure of Americans

"It is now matter of record that while the allies were anxious for every dollar we would lend and for every pound of food or war munitions we would send they feared our soldiers would not be able to help. England and France thought the sure death or capture of our soldiers would harm their cause."

"But the boys went over, drilled a few months, and then came Cantigny forever to be classed with Lexington and Bunker Hill in our history. The forces were small on that field but men of the First Division stood on their feet, aimed at German heads, broke the line where French had been three times repulsed and stopped the drive on Paris from the northeast. Like an electric thrill that episode ran through every court in Europe and caused monarchs to tremble on their thrones."

"The American Army is a joke," said Europe, and it was, but the joke was on the Kaiser."

Prof. H. L. Miller of the University of Wisconsin, made the principal speech. He spoke on "The Price of Freedom," and said in part: "We have learned from the war what America means. We also have learned that every human being is precious. The suffering from that war goes back to the homes, to the women and little kiddies. The future lies in the hands of the American Legion."

Where Many Have Died

"Those who scorned us for honoring the memory of the dead of the Lusitania atrocity were our enemies and the enemies of the community of mankind. They became the torch for allied victory; and they today who are still confused at the date of Armistice day, a true internationalism and international leadership."

"National aims means international aims; national responsibilities mean international responsibilities; national conscience means international conscience; national democracy means international democracy; groups in America and you, non-Americanism. Democracy doesn't mean a sameness about everything. It means that every individual has the right to contribute toward the welfare of the country. We have had a Kaiser-like people who claim to know everything. Every service man should have the right to continue his education. We want a liberal, tolerant program for these young men for education is the best preparedness America can have. We are not all equal in penmanship, in education, in wealth, but we are all equal in potential development."

Greatest Menace of U. S.

"The greatest menace of the United States today is the superficial idea of freedom, the clash of class against class. Once we get out of the clutches of the development of nations and races then we will get real democracy. The distinct national entities must remain intact as they are to the contrary, or we in our untouchable and undreamed vigor should become the champions of the great question."

The social democrat of Germany, silent in his splendid national devotion, will be seeking a golden means between the Bolshevik state and the bolshevism—a genuine not an absolute democracy. The Russian peasant until yesterday inarticulate, myopic, feeble, the Frenchman without clear brain and forward looking spirit, the Englishman wrapped in his great tradition, personal liberty, is seeking it. We in our untouchable and undreamed vigor should become the champions of the great question.

"Alternate leaderships apply to nations and races as well as individuals. As it is not to the contrary, or we in our untouchable and undreamed vigor should become the champions of the great question, science, humanity and democracy."

BAN IS PLACED ON THE SALE OF MALT AND HOPS

Can Be Sold Only to Bakers and Confectioners is New Ruling of Enforcement Office

SOFT DRINK MEN KICK AGAINST HOME BREWING

Expect Litigation to Test Legality of the Government's Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio.—Suit to test the recent ruling of the prohibition enforcement bureau prohibiting the sale of malt extract and hops to anyone except confectioners and bakers was to be filed in the United States court here Friday by a local distributing company.

Counsel for the company declared they will carry the case through to the United States supreme court.

"They have no ground to stand on and no doubt will lose the case," said James A. Shearer, prohibition director for Ohio.

Malt and hops dealers here assert their products are not the main components of home brew.

It was asserted by Timothy S. Hagan, former attorney general, one of the counsel for the plaintiff, both malt sugar syrup and hops, principal products sold, have many medicinal purposes, and "much suffering" will be caused if the sale is prohibited.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(By the Associated Press.)—Home brewing was brought actively under the prohibition forbiddance when enforcement officials ruled against the sale of hops and malt to others than bakers and confectioners. Great secrecy surrounded the prohibition bureau's action, but it was definitely ascertained that such instructions had been issued.

Details of the order were lacking. The only admission made by prohibition officials was that the Volstead act had been construed to mean that the sale of malt and hops as component parts of home made beer were without the pale of the law and their sale must stop.

Enforcement Officials Notified

Enforcement officials throughout the country have been notified of the government's determination, but they have not been supplied with the technical language of the decision.

The new construction of the prohibition law which resulted in the new orders was made nearly two months ago, but it has not yet been approved by Secretary Houston.

There were persistent rumors at both the prohibition and internal revenue headquarters that many complaints had come from the manufacturers of cereal beverages containing less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol against the tremendous growth of brewing as a home industry.

Litigation is Expected

They were understood to have protested that enforcement agents were enforcing the alcoholic restrictions on them while the home brewer has been able to produce a beverage approximating old fashioned beer.

Officials anticipated that the ban on malt and hops sales would bring a wave of litigation as to the government's right to forbid their sale to individuals. They claim, however, that their decision had been preceded by a careful study and said they were prepared to meet the attack.

Under Consideration

The internal revenue bureau broke its silence Friday on the ruling of the prohibition enforcement bureau prohibiting the sale of malt extracts and hops to others than bakers and confectioners.

Commissioner Williams declared in a statement that the subject was under consideration by the revenue bureau, where final decision on acts of the prohibition bureau rested. He said the prohibition officials probably would discuss the subject with officers of the internal revenue bureau later in the day and added that the revenue bureau had arrived at no conclusion on the question.

Chicago Film Censor Claims Movies Should Be Indicted on Eleven Counts.

CHICAGO.—T. D. Hurley, chairman of the censorship commission of Chicago, told the National League of Compulsory Education here on Thursday that motion pictures should be indicted on eleven counts. Among the charges he made against them are:

They interfere with school work. The moral effect is injurious. The view of life which the movies presents is false. That sex and vampire films are shown to children. Children lose respect for authority after seeing some films. Children from 7 years up are precocious on the sex question. There is noticeable disregard for marriage relations in the films and they have a bad effect on modesty and purity. Children become dissatisfied with their homes. The eye strain is severe, nerves are affected with decreased vitality and dulled mentality. The effect on the rising generation as a whole is bad. The average attendance of children of school age is from two to three times a week.

ALLIES SHOW ANXIETY OVER THE SITUATION

Turk-Armenian Truce Makes Possible Clash in Turkey Between Bolsheviks and Allied Forces

AMERICAN WORKER NOT DEAD RED CROSS IS INFORMED

Captain Kilpatrick Reported a Prisoner in Hands of the Reds

PARIS.—Reports to the French foreign office from the Crimea Friday indicate that General Wrangle, anti-bolshevik leader in South Russia, has abandoned his entire first line of defense before Perekop, withdrawing to the second line which it is feared he will be unable to hold under the attacks of the bolsheviks, which daily are becoming fiercer. The bolsheviks are receiving large reinforcements and General Wrangle's situation now is regarded by the allies as most grave. It is recognized here, however, that the entire situation depends upon the "white" army holding the Crimean isthmus.

The allies are said to be concerned over developments in the Caucasus. Foreign office reports confirm signing of an armistice by the Armenians and Turks and fear is expressed that the possible imminent junction of the bolsheviks in that region with the Turkish nationalists might have grave consequences, resulting even in an eventual clash of the bolshevik forces with the allied troops in Turkey.

Kilpatrick Not Dead

PARIS.—It is reported at Washington that Captain Emmett Kilpatrick, American Red Cross worker in South Russia, was not killed by the bolsheviks, but is being held a prisoner, were confirmed in a telegram received at the Paris branch of the American Red Cross from Sebastopol on November 8. The telegram reads:

"Definite information that Kilpatrick is a prisoner was received from Russian officers who escaped from the group of prisoners which included Kilpatrick. This group left Lavinia under guard in the direction of a prison camp at Klovaka (Kachovka) on the Dnieper."

U. S. PARK DIRECTOR URGES ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMUNITY HOUSE

DENVER, Colo.—Development of community houses within the national parks and more free automobile camps outside, as adjuncts to motor travel, were urged by Stephen T. Mather, director of the National Park Service, speaking before National Park-to-Park Highway association Thursday.

"The automobile, plus facilities for inexpensive, comfortable open air life, will enable the whole United States to shake hands from their flippers," Mr. Mather said.

STRIKERS BACK AT WORK TO CLEAN UP HARDING STEAMER

NEW YORK.—When striking ship painters learned that President-elect Harding would return from Paphnia to the United States on the United Fruit company steamer Pastores, they volunteered to help make the ship spic and span for him and Friday were busily engaged in renovating her white coat. The painters had been on strike for more than a month.

MARINES ACCUSED BY PUBLIC CLAMOR SAYS HAITI CHIEF

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti.—(By The Associated Press.)—Sudre Darigues, president of the republic of Haiti, testifying Friday before the naval board of inquiry, declared he had no official knowledge of the charge of indiscriminate killing of natives by United States marines. The president said he was without means of proving the existence of cases of homicide or violence that may have been committed by the marines, adding: "They had been accused by public clamor."

WORST OUTBREAK OF TYPHUS IN HISTORY CONFRONTS POLAND

Epidemic Threatens to Spread Over all of Europe Says U. S. Relief Worker

WARSAW.—Poland is in far worse condition from typhus fever dangers than ever in her history, says a report by Colonel Harry L. Gilchrist, commander of the American Polish Relief Expedition which has been cooperating with the Polish government more than a year in an effort to wipe out the disease.

"Unless outside aid is forthcoming at once," says the report, "suffering will be intense during the approaching winter and all Europe will be threatened with a terrible typhus fever epidemic."

Increased dangers from the spread of typhus fever has been brought about by the Polish-Russian war, which has destroyed all eastern defenses against the infected regions of Russia as the armies have pushed each other back and forth across the disputed districts.

Regarding the bolshevik activities in August which threatened Warsaw for days and later effect upon the typhus fever situation, Colonel Gilchrist summarizing his report, attributed the renewed dangers to the following causes:

"Complete abandonment of all typhus fever work in the worst typhus fever districts of Poland; capture by the bolsheviks of all eastern quarantine stations and removal of the barriers established under great difficulties; capture and destruction of much of the paraphernalia and materials which had been distributed in many towns and villages throughout the typhus districts; introduction by bolshevik troops of a new source of contamination to places free from the disease; infecting of the armies of Poland; and infecting of the populace returning to homes recently occupied by bolshevik soldiers."

Poland realizes the seriousness of the present situation, and is doing all in her power to cope with it, says the report, but with a war on hand, and limited facilities to work with, the government officials can do but little.

In closing Colonel Gilchrist says: "While there are no figures available to enumerate the actual amount of damage wrought by the bolshevik armies in their recent advances toward Poland, it is predicted by the most conservative that the number of new typhus cases scattered over all Poland will reach many thousands, and the financial loss due to the destruction of sanitary materials, crops and other property will run into millions of dollars."

GIRL OR MAN ROOMER, WHICH DO YOU LIKE?

OKLAHOMA.—Miss B. P. Ripley, Y. W. C. A. secretary, has been canvassing the city for roomers for newcomers. Ladies tell different tales. BLAMES HARD LUCK FOR HIS DOWNFALL

LONDON.—George Wiltshire was arrested for obtaining money by false pretences. He blamed hard luck. This was his story. Explosion blew in his shop windows; burglars stole his cash box; his health broke down; sold furniture to get food, and then had to pawn everything he had to provide for wife and child. Sent to workhouse for a month.

Banish Catarrh

Breathe Hyomel for Two Minutes and Stuffed Up Head Will Go

If you want to get safe relief from catarrh, cold in the head, or from any irritating cough in the shortest time breathe Hyomel.

It will clean out your head in two minutes and allow you to breathe freely, awake or asleep, or money refunded.

Hyomel should end a cold in one day, and relieve you of disgusting sniffles, hacking, spitting and offensive breath in a week.

Hyomel is made chiefly from eucalyptus, a soothing, healing, germ killing antiseptic, that comes from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia where catarrh, asthma, and other bronchial troubles are seldom known.

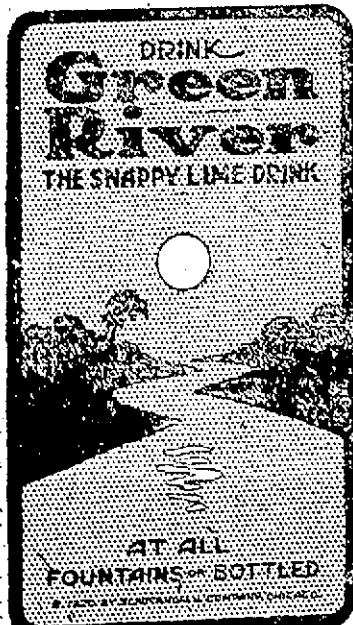

Hyomel is pleasant and easy to breathe. Just pour a few drops into the Hard Rubber Inhaler, use as directed and relief is almost certain.

A Complete Hyomel Outfit, including Inhaler and one bottle of Hyomel, costs but little at Hoescher Bros. and drug-gists everywhere.

GERMANS ARE OVERRUNNING ITALY AGAIN

Foreign Exchange Favors Italians Trading With Former Enemy

ROME.—The Germans are once more making a business province of Italy. That is the cold truth of the present situation.

Before the war the Germans were thick in Italy. They helped make Milan a great industrial center. Their money helped develop Turin. They got their hands on banks as well as factories and wholesale and retail stores.

Peace Didn't End It

When Italy went into the war, Italians hoped that their business and financial independence would come. They hoped the peace would find an Italy owned and developed by Italians.

But all conditions have worked against this. In the first place, many of the supposed sales by Germans of their interests in Italian business houses were mere fake sales. And now they are coming back again.

But aside from this, Italy is being forced by hard circumstances to deal with Germans. America is very distant and absorbed in her own affairs. England and France drive a hard bargain every time they sell Italy anything.

Lira Higher Than Mark

Also, while the lira is away down in England, and France, it isn't as low as the German mark.

In other words, compared with pre-war days, it takes more lire to buy the same thing in England and France but it takes less in Germany. Therefore, it pays to deal with German manufacturers.

America could get all this business, if our men would just go after it and give the Italians a chance for their white alley.

About Bread--and Other Foods

Foods aren't all alike in value.

The next time you start to plan a "square meal", Mrs. Housewife, remember this—

It's quite easy to spend large sums on elaborate menus, and not get half the nourishment from them that you would from a meal of pure, wholesome bread.

Bread deserves a more prominent place on your table at every meal.

Instead of including bread somewhere in the menu, why not do as the Italians do—

Start with bread.

You will find it is the foundation of numberless appetizing dishes that cost but little.

Eat more bread—eat "Two slices where you now eat one".

La Crosse baked Bread is Bread at its Best—always pure, tempting and nutritious.

Our line includes every essential for a modern, health-protecting bathroom

The illustration shown above is a reproduction of a portion of a Literary Digest advertisement appearing this week.

Thomas Maddock's Sons Company, whose products we recommend and guarantee, was foremost in developing many of the principles by which the modern forms of sanitary equipment were achieved. Today, the entire output of 21 kilns—the largest single plant in America devoted exclusively to the manufacture of vitreous china ware for plumbing purposes—is insufficient to meet the demands for bathroom equipment of the quality that has characterized the products of this firm for more than half a century.

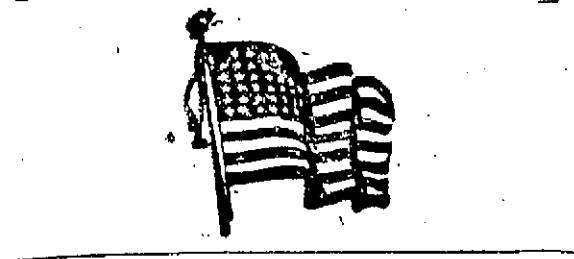

Made entirely of glistening, pure white, non-absorbent, almost unbreakable vitreous china which does not chip, crack or craze, these fixtures represent the highest ideals in modern bathroom appointments.

They are always easy to clean and are constructed so that they stay clean with a minimum of care. They are correct in design and provide the utmost in health protecting features. They give a lifetime of service without repairs and without even showing age.

We now have an unusual showing of the latest designs in this equipment ready for inspection. Come in and let us show you why Maddock fixtures are cheapest in the long run.

BRITAIN'S ANSWER

BRITAIN, says a Washington dispatch to Hearst's newspapers, is planning to establish a system of dominion navies which, added to the mother country's fleet, will more than maintain the two-power standard which England set for herself before the world war. Although there is no authority for the statement other than the customary "well-informed source", which may mean much or little, there is a general air of probability about the story. It is not reasonable to assume that Great Britain has failed to note the blatant program of naval building put forward by Josephus Daniels and loudly applauded by certain jingoes. If this is not in fact Britain's answer, an answer very like it may confidently be expected. Insisting upon our earnest desire for peace, the United States has laid the foundation for exactly such an armament competition as made Europe an armed camp before 1914, and convinced wise observers as early as 1900 that the world war was inevitable.

Laying aside the moral aspects, it might be desirable from considerations purely of power politics for the United States to have the greatest navy in the world—and the greatest army, for that matter. But even if the nation would stand for the awful cost of such a program, it would be futile eventually. The United States is a large, wealthy and populous country, but the rest of the world has more territory, more wealth and more people. History shows that the militarization of any country beyond the limits of safety for its neighbors always engenders a combination against it by which it ultimately is beaten. As the first move in such a check upon Mr. Daniels' "biggest navy in the world" Britain is said to be calling upon her rich and populous colonies. If that is not enough she can easily find more than sufficient help outside of the empire. Japan, for instance, is a country with considerable naval force which might not be averse to a part in curbing the sea-power ambitions of this country.

To attempt a policy of preparedness to whip the world is to embark upon a game which has never won, and never will. One would think that the demonstrated impossibility of it would have brought leaders of governments at least to an effort to try the only suggested alternative—disarmament. Certainly an honest offer on the part of the United States to meet the rest of the world half-way in scrapping its arsenals is much more in keeping with American traditions than challenging to a spending contest on dreadnoughts and big guns.

SPORTSMAN LANDIS

AMERICA is looking for clean baseball. In such a time the name of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, suggested as the chief arbiter of the diamond, is inspiring. We know of no name which better symbolizes clean Americanism, which among many other fine things, is clean sportsmanship.
There may be those who will see in the proffer of this position to Judge Landis the dark hand of a tremendous influence which would like to see him removed from the federal bench. There is that dark hand, and it reaches far, but one doubts that it has touched the invitation extended to the eminent jurist by baseball. Rather it is the clean hand of true sportsmanship that invited the invitation. Baseball is "in bad". Its better element realizes this. They see that baseball has become a national institution, and must respond to the best American impulses coming directly from the people. They want to top it with a name known throughout the land as incorruptible.
And for such a purpose, what name is better than that of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis?
America will miss Judge Landis from the bench, if he leaves it. But there is no service other than baseball to which it would prefer to see him go. And if that is his decision, who has a right to quarrel with it? If all the federal judges in America pool their services to the public, we doubt if the aggregate would top the pyramid of fearless decisions in behalf of the common good uttered by this beloved best Roman of them all. He has a mar's anger, a man's courage, a man's justice. But under his white hairs is a boy's heart, and the boy heart of America calls out for baseball as clean as American boyhood.

You've earned a little play, Judge Landis. You select the job. Uncle Sam is for you, on the bench or on the diamond.

PARTIES AND BRYAN

MR. BRYAN quit the democratic party during the present campaign because it failed to conform to his idea of what a liberal party should be. He now declares that it must be reorganized upon a progressive or radical basis. That it suffered disastrous defeat at a moment when displeasure at its course had caused him to withhold his support of its program and ticket is likely to bring its shattered columns back to his leadership. In that event he will hope to make it the rallying ground for all who are dissatisfied with the republican party—if the election returns disclose that any such exist.

But it is improbable that Mr. Bryan's idea of a liberal democratic party will head off plans for a new party. Those who are interested are not seeking Mr. Bryan's leadership. Some of them want to do the leading themselves. Moreover, party insurgents are largely drawn from the industrial classes which refuse to swallow Mr. Bryan's prohibition ideas. Much of the radicalism of the times is a thirsty sentiment. In other places the personal ambitions of radical leaders conflict. Probably the country will have to find something more substantial to revolt about before a new party is created by a spontaneous mass movement. For a time we may become so busy earning from $5 to $10 per day as to forget to be enraged about the fellow who got his start by saving money at $1.25 a per day.

STILL A SENATOR

THERE is as a member of the senate a man convicted by a jury of his equals of the crime of buying with money the toga that he wears. Senator Truman H. Newberry was found guilty in a federal court of violating the corrupt practices act in that it was alleged, thousands and thousands of dollars were spent in highly questionable manner for his election. Newberry is still a senator, although a federal court declared that he must spend two years in a federal jail.
How long will the American people be tolerant of the senate's delay?
When will they demand that Newberry's seat be declared vacant? His presence in the senate is a rebuke to every honest senator, be he republican or democrat.
The republican senate should consider as one of its first acts when it re-convenes, the cleaning of its house.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Yesterday was the sixty-third anniversary of the birthday of Alois Yeble, the oldest officer in the city. Mr. Yeble has served on the police force since 1886, longer than any other member of the force.
The retail grocers of the city are backing a movement to have a sealer of weights and measures hired here. An ordinance providing for one will be introduced at the regular meeting of the common council tonight.
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Murphy have returned from a trip through the south. Mr. Murphy purchased some land in Baldwin county, Alabama.
The finding of a piece of lead on the side of Granddad by John Utermoehl, Jr., has raised the question as to whether there is a lead mine in the local bluffs. Secretary John Utermoehl, father of the boy who found the lead, will have an analysis made.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The general devastation in the bayfields in the valleys of the La Crosse, Black, Root and Mississippi rivers, has resulted in making farmers in this vicinity entirely dependent upon having their hay shipped in for the coming winter.
The new button works is ready to begin operations next Monday. Thirty people will be employed.
Mr. Peterson who is at present an engineer in Holway's mill, has purchased the old street car barn at the corner of George and Rublee streets and will turn it into a factory for the making of gasoline engines for boats, factories, etc.
Rev. J. J. Wilkins, rector of Christ Episcopal church here for a number of years, has been unanimously elected vicar of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral at Los Angeles, California. He will leave here next month.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

J. J. Fruit of this city has received a notification that he has been appointed a member of the board of visitors of the University of Wisconsin for the school year ending 1891.
So many complaints have been made since the ferry boat Warsaw started taking the long route again because the road on the other side leading to the short route has been closed, that City Attorney Brindley and City Surveyor Crosby went to La Crosse Saturday to see if the road could not be re-opened. By the agreement they made with La Crosse officials La Crosse is to pay $100 and La Crosse $50 toward the repair of the road.
The canvassing board for the county finished counting votes at the court house today. The returns give Connors a lead of sixty-three votes over Edwards for state senator.
The Clinton Bridge company which has the contract for building the bridge over the Mississippi river here put ten new men at work yesterday morning in an effort to complete the work on schedule time as they will be held to an agreement to forfeit $4 per day for every extra day needed.

MY DAY

BY MARIE MCG. WILLIAMS

John Inglis began it—very badly at that. Which is not at all like him—commonly he is a rock of refuge for anybody in the neighborhood who lets herself get over-gilded. You see he can do anything, and has nearly everything—cars, gaited saddle horses, two canoes on the mill pond, a delightful big old house, with an adorable aunt to play propriety at need, money in both pockets, a sweet disposition, and the most engaging brand of ugliness, unique, even distinguished.
He claims to have helped raise me—and intimates that he used to be proud of that. I know how to take that—as guff for public consumption. Privately he looks another story—though he hadn't ever taken me outright, my mind was quite made up to marry him, when I was good and ready—say after I was missing twenty-five. Maybe I ought to have told him—but it takes so little to make a man give himself airs—even John. Then I really couldn't tolerate him giving Lady Loring a thought, or kiss, as my friend.
Yet he called up at an ungodly hour—just after daybreak. "Wake up, the lady bird and have her ready to ride with me," he said. "Your bags will fit her—she'll look fine in my Mexican saddle—and tell her to let her hair fly. It is a dead match to Trimble Toe's mane and tail."
The impertinence of him! It took my breath a second, flared out at him like a house afire, but he only laughed back. "Don't be foolish, Nancy—green eyes don't become you—not one bit." Then as I gasped, "You said: 'have your ready in five minutes'—good. Otherwise—well, the lady bird won't be jealous of sister horsemen." Of course, I froze after that—he made him come in a hurry—routed up Lady—she was horribly cross until she knew why—then she asked me as she went into the bathroom. "How rich is that secretary of yours, Nan? I mean in real money—belongings don't interest me—I must invest myself for hard cash, you know."
I think he has as much as seven dollars. I flung after her, so angry I could barely keep my voice steady. I wanted to tell her she'd be lucky to get on a bargain counter—but didn't—being a hostess cramps your style sometimes.
When they rode off to breakfast at the Pines I had to laugh—John rode so easy and Lady so hard. It was about her third time in saddle—I knew she wanted to hold on to Trimble Toe's mane—but she didn't—I mean: say she was lame.
Just then Dad came down, wearing mostly a dressing gown and a worried look. Mother was ill—he had called the doctor—now it was up to me to call off the garden party. Fine dust after-dinner—mother wasn't able to endure noises of chatter, squealing, motors and so forth, to say nothing of jazz, even on the lawn. A prettily big order—but luckily I waited till after breakfast to start carrying it out. The riders were back then—Lady with her nose burnt scarlet at the tip, John lifted her down just as though she had been one, and set her on the piazza. So I had to say: "Oh, do your horse pinch, dear. I'm so sorry. Get them off quick." John frowned a little—but urged it when the pinches came. He insisted like an angel got me out of it. Went home and took the party bodily off my hands. I loved him for it until he called up to tell me everything was arranged, and would up with: "Of course you won't like to leave your mother, so I'm coming to fetch the Lady first in time to help Aunt Jane receive."
That made me murderous—but I had no time to dwell on it—because here came the Lorton car with Jessie Barrell and Elsie Duke inside—all packed around with bags, and suit cases, and things, and explaining that they had come this Thursday instead of waiting until Saturday, when they were expected, because they were coming anyway to the party—and Mrs. Barrell asked me so over the price of gasoline. But after all it wasn't so bad—I called up John telling him to bring the big car—the roadster—that is, the hair-top, wanted to make three trips left-a-leave.
When mother had fallen asleep, I thrust into Lady's mouth—fourteen new dripping cold cream, her feet swelled two sizes and red as boots. "But they—oh, my dear horse—she's so spluttered, 'I—can't—sit—down—I'm so—sorry, but—I—must—go. Even though it seems I can't hardly stand.'" "Of course, you must go—you shall. If I have to get a litter," I said crisply—determined John should see the wreck of his happiness while the wrecking was in the acute stage. Lady's eyes were in commission—the most dangerous things about her—she somehow they didn't seem formidable with a red nose in between.
Elsie Duke is my evil genius—she's taken that first ride through by time she was through with her lotions and salves and grease-paints outright, she had Lady on foot, looking a barn shade the worse for the ride. "Kick your heels down, and walk Spanish," she giggled, "and sit out most of the dances." She admonished as they sat.

waiting for John. Instead came the big car, with the handsomest young creature I ever saw at the wheel. He sunk out bareheaded. "I'm nobody but Tommy. Got to stow my load, ship shape—old John ordered a call for one more passenger."
"She can have my room," I said primly—it was all I could manage with the crowd leaving me behind. Tommy grinned. "If you were dressed, I'd take you in my lap," he said. "See that you are dressed when I come back for you—unless you want to ruin my sweet disposition."
The impertinent! But he didn't have to wait. Mother fairly made me go—and wear my male blue frock with the pink roses on it. Tommy was in the roadster. I knew him perfectly if I had never seen him—John's step-cousin and sworn friend, just home from the wars. John had told me how funny he was, likewise how audacious; still it took me all back to have him say, stopping dead and patting my shoulder: "Cousin Nan, I am taking time to toj you, you're playing the fool—with a prefix if you understand." "As how?" I asked him, trying to make a joke of it. "Playing games with a full-grown man worth any hundred of the rest, as though he was a jumping-jack. Mind how you cut your notches, or you'll have him jumping into a red-hot hell!"

"Name it—if you can," I said chills crawling up and down my spine. "No need," he said. "I'd never scandalize a lady—slight emphasis here. But—there are ladies and ladies. John may get too fond of the wrong sort. On who ran rigs over yonder—uniform to the contrary notwithstanding. I can't warn him—for reasons. I'd hate awfully to threaten her. Now—will you be good?"
"How?" I asked, more chills down my spine. Tommy laughed aloud. "You ask an infant to tutor you," he said. "I think it would be a good omen if you told old man John, you'd do anything he said hereafter."
"Will you believe it—I managed somehow to do just that before the party broke up."

PIEZ CHALLENGES QUIZ COMMITTEE TO PROVE CHARGES

Former Ship Board Director
Scores "Bilge Water Report" of the Committee

DENIES CHARGE POLITICS INFLUENCED CONTRACTS

Earlier Indictments Wouldn't Hold Water, He Declares

CHICAGO, Ill.—Charles Piez, former director general of the Emergency Fleet corporation, criticized the house committee investigating the fleet corporation, in a statement here Thursday and declared the committee had overlooked the wholesome atmosphere of the hold and deck of the structure and was "being just a bilge water committee."

"Twice within eight months," Mr. Piez said, "the so-called Walsh committee has caused the publication of statements reflecting on the competency, honesty and integrity of the members of the United States shipping board and the Emergency Fleet corporation."

"The first statement was heralded as indicating a billion dollar graft among the shipbuilders and emergency fleet corporation officials of the Pacific coast."

"The indictments when brought totaled less than $30,000, and when the first case was brought to trial, the government's case was so flimsy that the judge decided it without letting it go to the jury."

"The committee is again after a sensation, and so it publishes the charges which two former minor employees of the shipping board have laid before it."

Piez declared that in the 181 shipyards under his control there were $55,000 men, and that there was among this number "less than the average human dishonesty." There were cases of payroll padding and petty graft, he said, but a corps of investigators was constantly on guard and offenders were summarily dealt with.

"As to other charges," he continued, "I want to say that during my incumbency of nineteen months as one of the executives of the Emergency Fleet corporation, there was not a single case in which any contract was let as a result of either political or other influence, and I challenge the committee to bring forth a single example."

MILLERS CALLED INTO COURT
TOPEKA, Kan.—An order citing Topeka millers to appear before the Kansas court of industrial relations to show cause why they should either cease or cut down production at this time, was signed Thursday by Judge George H. Wark of the federal court.

French sardine fishermen have appealed to the government to "save their business from the porpoises." These drive the smaller fish out of the established fishing grounds besides devouring them in great quantities. It has been proposed to kill the porpoises by bombing them from airplanes and it is likely that the suggestion will be tried.

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Tells Safe and Simple Way to Treat
And Relieve at Home

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment, which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Eucalypti (Double strength). Take this home and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dripping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

PLAN TRIP TO CHINA TO SEEK TRACES OF THE "MISSING LINK"

U. S. Museum of Natural History Plans Expedition to Start in February

SCIENTISTS WILL ALSO STUDY CHINA'S ABORIGINAL TRIBES

Little Known About Earliest Inhabitants of China

NEW YORK. — The expedition sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History which will set forth for China next February will search not only for fossils of the ape-man, regarded by biologists as the "missing link" in the chain of evolution, but will study the aboriginal tribes now said to be fast disappearing in China.

"We know as little about some of the living natives as about the fossil history of the country," says Roy Chapman Andrews, who will lead the expedition. "Long before the Chinese arrived, China was inhabited by aboriginal tribes, which were pushed south and west just as the Indians were driven westward by white men who advanced across the American continent."

"Remnants of nearly 30 of these tribes, such as the Lolos, Mosos, Lisos and others, are rapidly disappearing, and the expedition expects to study them before they become extinct."

Describing these aborigines with whom he has hunted, Mr. Andrews said they are totally unlike Chinese, having tall and slender bodies, long faces, patrician noses and other characteristics of Caucasian blood.

Mr. Andrews says that scientific men are now agreed in the belief that the oldest prehistoric remains of man, and of many beasts, lie somewhere within the great Central Asiatic plateau, where few white men have ever penetrated.

One of the reasons why little is known of China's fossils and those of interior Asia is that material of this sort is carefully concealed by the Chinese, who term the relics "dragon bones" and use them for medicinal purposes, said Mr. Andrews.

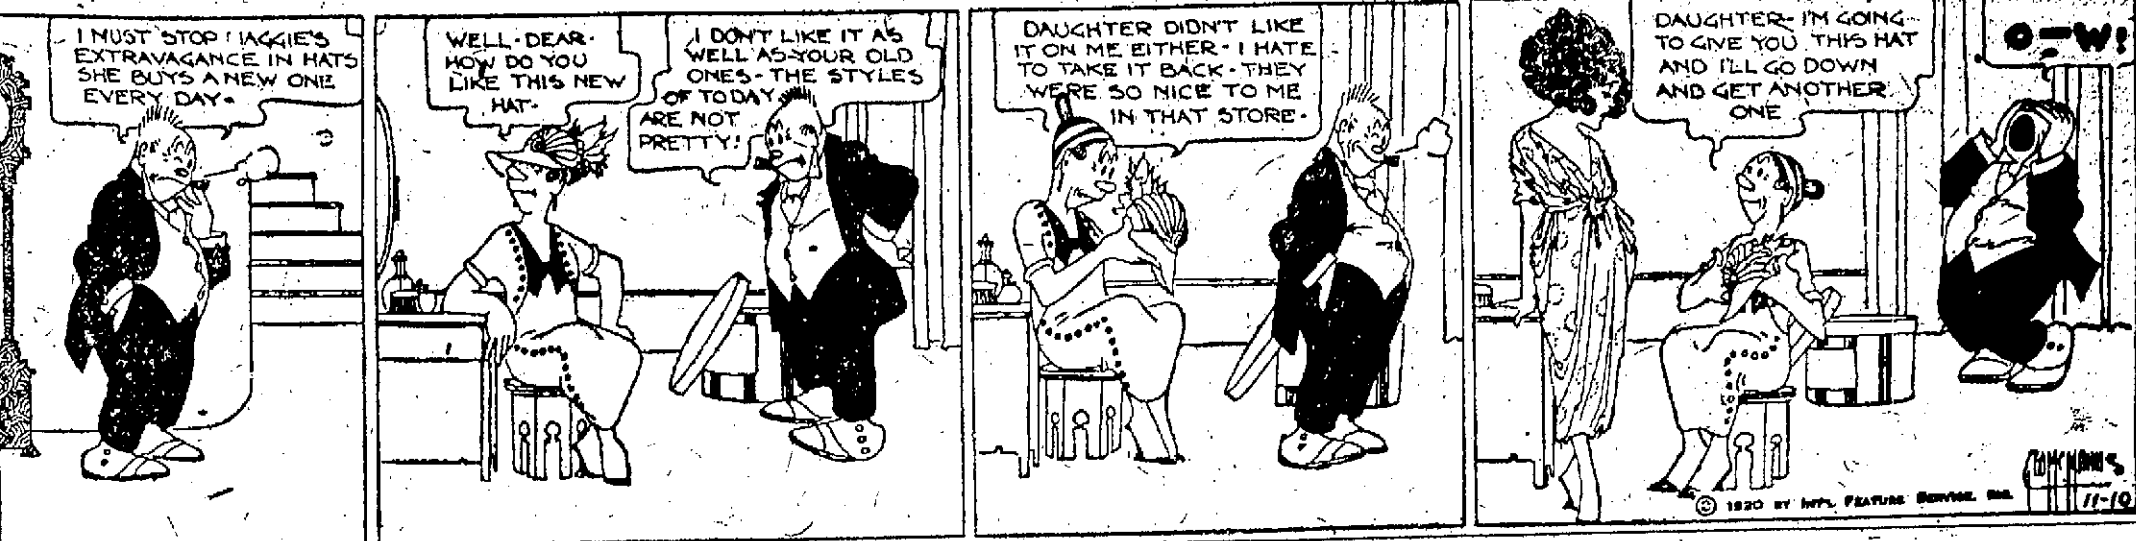

One result expected is the education of Americans in a knowledge of the immense continent across the Pacific. Whether success or failure meets the attempt to find the "missing link," hundreds of thousands of specimens of Asiatic animal and plant life are to be collected and brought to America. These it is planned to place in the proposed $1,000,000 Hall of Asiatic Life in this city.

Hunts for wild animals many of which the explorer hopes to bring alive to the United States will furnish excitement. In a corner of the Gobi Desert are herds of wild horses, while on the Tibetan steppes are enormous yak, snow leopards and giant pandas. In Chluu is the Takin, a strange ox-like animal with a veritable "golden fleece" that roams the highest mountain valleys and represents an intermediate stage between the antelope and the goat, says Mr. Andrews.

Headquarters for the expedition are to be at Peking. The work of the expedition is to continue for five years. The first year will be devoted to studies in paleontology and zoology in China. The second year the work is to be carried into Mongolia, with geologists added to the field staff. Then for the next three years the entire force will be scattered in widespread sections of Asia.

The Saracen war in Spain and France lasted 782 years.

BRINGING UP FATHER

PRIVATE OWNERSHIP MAKES BEST SHOWING

There are 7,061 generating plants in the United States. Of these about 35 per cent, or 1,851, are municipal plants. The municipal plants furnished last year 15 per cent of 30,000,000 kilowatt hours—the total output of the United States—while forty-five of the bigger plants generated more than 21,000,000 kilowatt hours, or more than 30 per cent of the total. These same plants use an average of only two pounds of coal per kilowatt hours, generated, while many of the municipal concerns require up to ten pounds per kilowatt hours or five times as much coal.

Autos For Racehorses

For the transportation of racehorses, the automobile has been found far superior to the railroad. The animals are usually nervous or high strung and the treatment received in the course of a railroad journey has a disturbing effect which persists for days after. Especially built cars have been found to be very satisfactory. The animals are sure of reaching their destination quickly and are unloaded in much better condition.

"Do you drive your own car?" "No," answered Mr. Chuggins. "I have to coax it."—Washington Star.

Coffee at first was a man's drink—The coffee houses of the 17th century were filled with the most prominent men of the times and women actually became jealous of their husbands' love of coffee. Then when women discovered they could make coffee at home, how popular they became! This was when salons flourished; women's wits were as sprightly as men's.

Men, Women and Coffee

How women changed their minds about an "uncivil" masculine custom

WHEN coffee first became popular in England, two hundred and fifty years ago, it was considered a man's drink.

It was served only in coffee houses which no woman ever dreamed of entering. As the men spent more and more time in the coffee houses, the women became jealous of this new drink. They claimed it was "unsocial and uncivil."

And then came an innovation. The lonely maidens found they could make coffee at home!

Ever since that day, women have striven to make coffee that will satisfy men's idea of what coffee should be. The clever hostess knows that good coffee expresses the warmest, friendliest kind of hospitality.

When Yuban was first discovered it was decided to reserve it for the guests and friends of the greatest coffee merchant. But everyone who tasted Yuban wished to secure it for himself. The fame of it spread so quickly that at last Yuban was offered to the public.

Ever since that time, Yuban has been the most popular coffee wherever it has been introduced. Its beguiling aroma, its rich golden liquor, delight everyone who tastes it. Yuban is the most popular coffee in Chicago among both men and women.

If by chance you have never tasted Yuban, what a surprise awaits you! Your own grocer has it—you can drink Yuban tomorrow.

Good coffee is just as warmly appreciated today as formerly. The hostess that serves good coffee is always popular. The young wife strives to serve coffee that will meet his approval. Yuban has the flavor that men like. It answers their idea of what coffee should be.

TONY LOSES SUIT AND OVERCOAT WHEN FRIEND TRIES 'EM ON

Louie Solonic Missing After Taking Suit, Overcoat and Money from Friend

Toney Busalack minus a suit of clothes, an overcoat and about nine dollars in change as a result of letting his friend, Louie Solonic, "try on" his clothes to go out and get some coffee.

Busalack, giving his address as Milwaukee, after meeting Solonic in Milwaukee was persuaded to come to La Crosse to find employment. Toney agreed and the pair came to this city on November 1 and secured a room at the Haddad rooming house on Second street. They lived together at the rooming house until Thursday morning when Solonic, rising at 6 o'clock in the morning, asked Toney for permission to "try on" his suit and overcoat. Permission granted, Solonic climbed into the clothes and informed his friend that he was going out to get some coffee and would be right back. There was about nine dollars in cash in the pockets of the suit, and here the story ends with both Louie and the clothes missing, while Toney waited in bed all day for their return. The two men had met two years ago, according to the report, but had not seen each other since, until their meeting in Milwaukee. Solonic lives at Portage.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERS FOUR CALLS THURSDAY AFTERNOON

The La Crosse fire department was kept busy Thursday afternoon when four alarms were sent in, three of them coming within twelve minutes of each other.

The department was first called to the residence of Mrs. Harry Colman, 114 South Fifteenth street, where a fire had started in the roof of the house. The flames were quickly extinguished and little damage was reported.

Shortly after the department was called to the Rescue Mission, where a small rubbish fire had started in the basement. Two other alarms, from a residence at 2106 Main street and from the Western Hotel, were answered but little or no damage was reported from either.

LABOR NOT OPPOSED TO MODERN METHODS DECLARES GOMPERS

Will Support Increased Output and Improved Methods But Will Fight Exploitation

WASHINGTON.—Organized labor will welcome whatever assistance research and science can offer to modern industry, president Gompers of the American Federation of Labor Friday told delegates to the preliminary conference on industrial research. A part of organized labor's own work, he said, has been directed toward the scientific study of conditions surrounding production, and to the assembling of data.

"A persistent effort has been made to saddle upon labor the odium of opposition to improved method and machinery in production," Mr. Gompers said. "This is not true. A general statement, 'What labor has opposed is an effort to exploit them by the use of improvements that are intended as a means of making money for a few richly suspicious of changes introduced without legislation and whose effect upon the welfare is not considered.'"

"Labor is not opposed to increased production of improved methods. Quite the contrary. It recognizes there can be no permanent betterment of standards of living for all except by increasing the things that contribute to betterment more satisfactory living. But we hold the fundamental that material production is not the ultimate of production, but service in a better life."

"I take it all of us have too much vision and experience to think we can solve the labor problem. That is a life problem that will last as long as life. This conference is concerned with the field of industrial government which we can for convenience divide under two main categories: the management and the administration. Experience has taught organized labor that we can only maintain our opportunity for freedom and well-being when laws for industry are made by those directly concerned—the management and the workers. Clearly the formulation of laws to govern industry is not to be the function of any organization suggested by this conference. Science and research may furnish the lawmakers with data and suggestions, but the law-makers in reaching the best considered judgment—but confusion and retrogression will follow any attempt to usurp prerogatives."

PLANS JOURNEY TO GREAT LAKES

Recruiting Officer W. R. Dunham of La Crosse desires the names of all those who expect to attend the celebration of "Wisconsin Day" at the Great Lakes Naval Training school which will occur on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

He desires to act as guide for those who expect to go to the Lakes school on that day, and would be glad to be of any service possible before or during the trip.

The events of the day include inspection, review and presentation of colors, and a football game with Camp Grant of the U. S. Army. The invitation was received from the Association of Commerce of Milwaukee which will present the colors, and was sent to the local Chamber of Commerce, but every resident of La Crosse will be welcome and can be assured of a good time.

YOUNG BANK TELLER ADMITS HE ROBBED VAULT OF $60,000

Missing Man Phones to Sheriff to Come and Get Him; Left Note in Vault

OTTAWA, Ill.—Francis J. Carey, 21-year-old teller of the National City bank of Ottawa, for whom a warrant was issued after the bank's vault had been opened with blow torches on Wednesday night, was arrested late Thursday by Sheriff Ayers of Ottawa.

Late in the afternoon the young man called Charles P. Taylor, president of the bank, on the telephone.

"I am at Matt Kerwin's farm," he said. "It is in Utica, about ten miles west of Ottawa. If you wish to send some one down after me I'll wait for them."

Sheriff Ayers immediately set out in a taxicab for the youth, who is alleged to have attempted on Wednesday night to steal $60,000 from the bank.

The Great Vault Mystery.

The "robbery" resulted in a great ado in Ottawa. Officials of the bank discovered the vault doors were closed. They concluded Carey had been locked in the vault by hand, but when a hole was burned through the vault door by acetylene torches it was discovered he was not inside.

Search for the young man was begun. The man who discovered the attempted robbery picked up a paste board box in front of the bank. In it was a fortune—$30,000.

The Telltale Note.

Thursday morning Mr. Taylor found a note in the vault. It read: "I would not have done this if you had treated me right." It was signed, "F."

At first the young man declared he did not attempt any robbery and knew nothing of the vault episode. Later he admitted the whole story.

PIG MYSTERY OF FRENCH ISLAND IS UP TO JUDGE HUNT

Martin Chapko, Farmer, Seeks Court Aid in Locating Fourteen Hogs

Pigs is pigs, the Irish station agent contended in Ellis Parker Butler's story, whether they are guinea pigs or just plain pigs. But what is worrying Martin Chapko, French Island farmer, is how can 17 pigs that start out bravely in the spring to grow from little piggies to big fat porkers dwindle to three pigs and nobody apparently know anything about it.

Chapko says he turned the pigs, seventeen of 'em, over to Henry Valquette, another French Island farmer to raise and when they were sold they were to divide the profits. Chapko says when he inquired about the pigs he found only three remained. Sheriff Lund promptly leveled on the pigs and annexed two which were turned over to Chapko. One porker was still roaming about in carefree manner so Constable L. B. Omerberg undertook to levy on that one. For three hours Omerberg led a platoon of hunters after the pig, covering several miles of marsh land, but always just about a yard behind the pig. That night, however when Mr. Pig came home for some much needed rest, he was seized and turned over to Chapko.

Now, Chapko has had Valquette haled before Judge Hunt to account for the other 14 pigs. The case opened today but the lawyers' arguments were put over until tomorrow.

PATROL LAKE SHORE IN HUNT FOR THREE MISSING AVIATORS

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Patrolling the western Lake Michigan coast from Two Rivers, Wis., to a point well below Sheboygan, coast guard and fishing boats Friday continued their search for the missing Great Lakes naval training station seaplane missing since Wednesday afternoon. Nothing definite as to the fate of Lieutenant Harry F. Barr, commander, and Engineer Edward M. Clark and Gunner's Mate John Chester, who were on board the craft, has been learned.

Experienced lake sailors and coast guard officials expressed the opinion that the men had perished. A rumor that a body had been found off Two Rivers, Wis., could not be confirmed.

Take men at Manitowish expressed the opinion that if the men ever were found it would be on the eastern coast of the lake. They said that with the strong northwest gale that blew all day Thursday and continued Friday the seaplane doubtless was blown across the lake. They also said that any bodies or wreckage likely would be blown to the east shore.

CAPITAL CITY TEAM HERE SATURDAY TO BATTLE LOCAL HIGHS

Biggest Game of High School
Conference on at Normal
Field Saturday

When the La Crosse and Madison high school football eleven appear on Normal field Saturday for the clash that will eliminate one or the other from the running in the state championship race, local fans will witness one of the most important battles of the season between high schools of the state.

Madison's record of this year fully equals that of last year, having defeated all of their opponents by large scores with the exception of Racine who only edged in to the extent of 6 to 0. Though defeated at Chippewa Falls, it is generally conceded that the local eleven is a superior team. Every member of the team has been in the game, and they made their yards but twice in the entire game, against La Crosse's thirteen lines. As evidence of the doubt that is being expressed at the Capital City on the outcome of the game, Coach Otto Endres of Madison, former La Crosse man, is unsparing in all requests for Turkey Day battles with this information. "No negotiations for a Turkey Day game will be made until La Crosse is out of the way," according to reports from that city. Coach Endres hopes to strengthen his aggregation considerably by the use of trick plays and fake formations and it is expected that many of these will be untried in Saturday's battle. Coach Mead, however, is counting his tackles and ends to meet anything out of the ordinary.

Mueller and Murray Back

With Mueller and Murray back in the squad, La Crosse is ready for the game with its original lineup, and the line is in first class shape. Bud Walsh, the much-quoted quarterback of the southern city, who has been successful in smashing every defense he has met, is expected to be a surprise. VETERAN BOXING REFEREE RESIGNS

NEW YORK.—The resignation of Bill Brown, veteran boxing referee, who has officiated in many bouts to the United States from the list of available referees under the new state boxing law, was announced today. Brown's severance of connections with the boxing commission was said to have resulted from his objections to the commission's system of choosing referees by rotation instead of their fitness for each particular bout.

IN THE MORNING PAPERS A Summary of the News

LONDON.—The Irish home rule bill passed the house of commons on its third reading after a motion of rejection of the measure proposed by William C. Adamson, the opposition leader, had been defeated, 183 to 52.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Applications for tickets to the Yale-Harvard football game November 20, have reached about 30,000.

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—The republican national campaign cost $2,416,000, according to figures given out by Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the republican national committee, who said the deficit was $1,250,000.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—The players of the Harvard football team will not be numbered in the game with Yale, or in any other contests, Coach Robert T. Fisher announced.

BIGGEST BUSHY BOLSHEVIK TO GET PRIZE SATURDAY IN MADISON HOBO PARADE

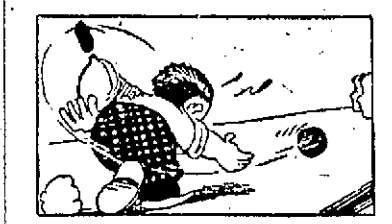

MADISON, Wis.—It is not at all uncommon to see long bearded students walking over the campus at the University of Wisconsin at the present time. The excitement has worn off with the students, but those who return to Wisconsin's annual homecoming game to be played with Illinois Saturday, November 13, will be able to appreciate the full significance of what is now taking place.

The cause is the hobo parade, which is to be held Saturday morning at 10:30. The reason is that the prizes for the hobo parade, long bearded hobo range from cigar cases to turkey gobblers.

This is a new feature on Wisconsin's homecoming program, and is taking the place of the parade that is usually held immediately following the mass meeting and bonfire on Friday night. The success of the event is assured by the fact that the prizes will be awarded to the best individual hobo, and the best group of hobos.

Headed by an eight-piece hobo band, the "disciples of inertia" will make their way about the city, arousing enthusiasm for the game in the afternoon. It is evident that those with big feet and homely faces will figure most prominently in the parade.

H. S. STUDENTS PLAN INVASION OF LOOP DISTRICT TONIGHT

In order to arouse enthusiasm for the Madison-La Crosse football game here tomorrow, and to remind those who may not know of the game, students at the high school are planning an invasion of the loop section tonight and it is expected that the din of the various noise-making devices will echo from river to bluff. The line of march will include all of the principal streets in the downtown section and the majestic theater will be the main objective after the demonstration on the streets. It is expected that over a thousand students will participate in the initial demonstration of its kind this year.

STEVENS POINT AND RIVER FALLS TEAMS MEET AT MENOMINEE

River Falls Refuses to Stage Championship Battle at Chippewa Falls

The River Falls and Stevens Point Normal football teams will play for championship of the Northern Normal Conference at Menominee Friday, according to tentative arrangements made recently after the scoreless game played.

After agreeing last Friday to play off the tie at Chippewa Falls, River Falls had a change of heart and later objected to that city giving as an excuse that Chippewa's field was not or might not be in good condition.

By playing at Menominee Stevens Point is forced to change cars three times and change railroads twice while River Falls has a shorter journey. River Falls at first insisted upon playing at La Crosse, and out of the way place for both teams, but were prevailed upon to accept Menominee. The logical place for the game.

PURDUE STUDENTS GIVE TO MEMORIAL

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Purdue university students pledged $326,335 to the million dollar fund being raised by the Purdue union for a student memorial building in two hours Thursday. These pledges bring the total raised to more than $550,000.

JOINT SESSION OF CLUB OWNERS HELD IN CHICAGO FRIDAY

Expect that Agreement Will be Formed Between "Loyal
Five" and New Club

CHICAGO, Ill.—Club owners of the National and American leagues met here Friday in joint session to make a final effort to avoid a baseball war.

The meeting was agreed upon when the warring factions met in Kansas City to present their sides of the controversy before the owners. John A. Heydler and B. B. Johnson, presidents of the National and American leagues, respectively, lawyers, stenographers and all others were barred from the meeting, only the men financially interested in the two leagues being present.

Club owners were expected to speak their individual opinions as to the best means for the reorganization of the game, so as to bring peace. The magnates were scheduled to convene at noon.

After the joint meeting, adjournment will be taken while each league deliberates upon the proceedings of a final report. In the evening, another joint meeting will be held and it was expected that some decisive action will be taken which will bring peace between the warring factions.

WANT LANDS

The eleven club owners who favor the Lasker plan, the National league club owners and Chicago, Boston and New York clubs of the American league have definitely decided upon Federal Judge Konecny N. Landis as chairman of the new governing board of baseball, if he accepts the offer.

The five members of the American league, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Washington, who have aligned themselves with Johnson have signified their willingness to accept the Lasker plan.

Expectations run high as to an agreement between the newly formed eleven club National league and the five American league clubs which have remained loyal to President Johnson.

The minors will not come into the joint session until the major league owners have framed out their differences.

ABOLISH NEW LEAGUE

On the program Friday was the reorganization of the national commission and abolition of the new twelve club National league formed here last Monday when the American and National leagues split. The new National league will insist that the old commission composed of Ban Johnson, president of the American league, and John Heydler, president of the National, with one vacancy, be abolished in favor of the civilian commission, it was said in baseball circles.

CRUCIAL BATTLE ON IN HOMECOMING AT MADISON SATURDAY

Game to Decide Wisconsin's Position as Compared With Other Big Teners

MADISON, Wis.—The Badger football team meets its crucial test on the gridiron Saturday when in the homecoming game they tackle the undefeated Illini. This game tells the tale either of a University of Wisconsin eleven which may claim to be as strong, partisans of the university claim, as any team in the Big Ten conference or one that has shown strength and promise but has been unable to stand successfully against two of the greatest of western football machines.

Team in Perfect Shape

The team, according to the coaches, is in perfect shape, except for its ends. They have the backing of a confident and enthusiastic university. Thousands of returned alumni are here with the one desire to see Illinois defeated. They are an impelling force that keys the players up to their greatest effort. Twenty-five thousand spectators are expected to see the game.

The game also will serve in a large measure to determine the final layout for the championship of the conference. If victorious Wisconsin will have a fighting chance to tie for first place, if it defeats Chicago next week after defeating Illinois and if Illinois then defeats Ohio at Columbus.

These possibilities are not occupying the attention of the players or of the school today. The one desire is for victory Saturday in the homecoming game.

WELLING CHOSEN TO MEET LEONARD IN TITLE MATCH

NEW YORK.—Joe Welling, Chicago lightweight boxer, was selected by Tex Rickard on Thursday to meet Benny Leonard, the world's lightweight champion, in a fifteen round bout to a decision. The contest will take place at the Madison-Square garden on Friday, Nov. 23. Each man has put up forfeit of $10,000 to make the weight 135 pounds at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the date named.

Wild olives have thorns, but these do not appear in cultivated plants.

BLOW UP TRESTLE
WILLIAMSON, W. Va.—The Norfolk & Western railroad trestle over Grapevine creek at Thacker, near here, and the Drum house of the Matta May Coal company at Ajax, a few miles from Williamson, were blown up Thursday morning. State police with bloodhounds have been sent to the scene of the explosions.

MILWAUKEE TRAINS ON RIVER DIVISION HAVE NEW SCHEDULE

New Order from Milwaukee to Become Effective on November 16

Trains on the River Division of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway will run on a new schedule effective at 12:01 in the morning of November 16, according to announcement of V. H. Rossback, agent at the local ticket office.

According to this schedule, train number 1, which arrives here from the east at 2:50 in the morning, will be run in one section and will not make stops on the River division except to let off passengers at Winona and Red Wing. The coast line section of train number 16, which arrives in the city from the west at 3:00 o'clock in the morning, will stop only at Red Wing and Winona to let off passengers, according to the announcement. The Minneapolis section of train number 16 will stop regularly at Hastings, Red Wing, Winona and Wabasha, and in addition will stop at Lake City to let off passengers from the Twin cities.

MEXICO MUST GET U. S. RECOGNITION TO ENTER LEAGUE

Other Nations Await Action of the American Government

WASHINGTON.—The first step toward qualifying Mexico for admission to the League of Nations would be the recognition by President Wilson, of the Obregon government, which takes office in Mexico, Dec. 1. Others wait on U. S.

Recognition by other countries is expected to wait on action by this country. If the United States accords recognition to the new Mexican regime, other nations generally will quickly follow suit.

The covenant of the League prescribing the qualifications for membership, specify that any fully self-governing state may be admitted by a two-third vote of the Assembly on giving effective guarantees of its intention to observe international obligations.

Recognition of the Mexican government, having been given by the individual nations in the League, could not well be denied by them acting collectively as the League.

Need Guarantees
The only qualification, therefore, left to be cleared up, would be Mexico's ability to give the necessary guarantees of her future sincerity. A reasonable period of probation might be required, but the helping hand of the League and the assistance of her Latin-American neighbors, already members, would be counted on to help her over any problems that might be encountered during the period of test.

Should Be "Brow-Study"
The application of the term "brow study" to a state of mental abstraction or meditation is said by some writers to be a misnomer, as the real term is "brow-study". It is, however, more probably one of a group of similar phrases in which colors are employed to designate characteristics or temper as "black-melancholy", "blue-devils", "green-eyed monster", "yellow stockings", "blue-stockings", "white-feather", and a number of terms in common use.

Please your taste—Both are Good

Swift & Company realize that taste is a matter of the individual; therefore, they make both Premium Oleomargarine and Gem Nut Margarine.

Both products are equally pure and delicious.

They are made from different ingredients and differ slightly in flavor to please individual taste.

Their delicate flavor makes them suitable for serving at table; their fine shortening qualities make them favorites wherever good cooks turn out superior cakes and pastries.

The fact that they are most moderately priced as well as most nutritious is an added advantage.

Both products share in the advantages of the famous Swift system of wide distribution.

Both are made in fourteen conveniently located factories, so both are fresh, pure, and delicious when they reach you.

Not a hand touches either product in manufacture or in packing.

TRAFFIC THROUGH "SOO" SHOWS BIG JUMP IN OCTOBER

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich.— Freight traffic through the American and Canadian canals here during October showed an increase over September of a little more than a million tons according to the monthly report of L. C. Sabin, superintendent of the American canals. The total for the month was 13,000,289 short tons as compared with 11,713,131 tons in September. Compared with October, 1919, the report shows an increase of nearly four million tons. Coal shipments to the west continued heavy, the monthly total of 2,470,265 exceeding the September total by a half million tons. Past-bound shipments of flour, wheat and copper exceeded the previous month's total, while there was a slight decrease in lumber. Improvement in dispatch of loading and unloading was indicated by an increase in the number of vessel passages over September of 71. In October, there were 2,745 vessels handled. A heavier passenger traffic than for the same period of the two previous years also was recorded.

MISS LOUISE HUFF

New York—Miss Louise Huff, the clever young actress, is famous for her beautiful complexion. When her friends inquired about it, she said: "It's all due to a toilet preparation called Derwillo which I have used twice daily. The experience I have had prompts me to make my secret public. This wonderful Derwillo instantly beautified my skin and its continued use has made the results permanent." When Miss Louise Huff, the well-known beauty specialist, was interviewed in reference to Miss Huff's remarkable complexion, she stated: "Anyone can have a beautiful complexion when they know how. It's a very simple process. I use the same article, in my work, and until you try it you have no idea of the marvelous results. The very first application will astonish you. Go to the drug counter of any drug store or department store and get a bottle of Derwillo, then make the following test: Examine your skin critically before your mirror, note carefully its appearance, then cleanse your skin with a good cold cream (Alaska Cold Cream I have found to be the best), then apply Derwillo as directed. After you have made the first application look in your mirror again and note the surprising result. A rosy-like color mounts the cheeks; a baby softness comes to the skin; it makes the skin rosy-white, velvety and radiantly beautiful. It is wonderful for a dark, yellow skin, shiny nose, freckles, tan, oily skin, sun spots, coarse pores, pimples, blackheads, chapped, rough skin, ridges, wrinkles and many other facial blemishes. Now that short sleeves are in vogue you will want beautiful hands and arms. There is nothing like Derwillo for this purpose. Derwillo is absolutely harmless and will not produce or stimulate a growth of hair. It is superior to face powder, as perspiration does not affect it, therefore it stays on better. Hundreds of thousands who are using it have had the same results as Miss Huff, and I am sure if you will give it a fair trial you will become just as enthusiastic as she is and always use it in preference to any other powder or beautifier."

NOTE—When asked about Derwillo one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful beautifier, away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to anyone who is dissatisfied. This guarantee would not be possible unless the product possessed unusual merit." It is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all department stores and up-to-date druggists including Hoerschler Bros. and C. A. Begun.

"UNKISSED BRIDE" REAL COMEDY HIT

The Brooks Stock Company Presents Noted Comedy to a Packed House Last Evening "The Unkissed Bride" bears the enviable endorsement, "a real comedy hit." The fact that it was presented by the Brooks Stock company to a packed house last evening, made it one of the delightful entertainments of the season. The Brooks Stock company, although almost unknown in this community, have succeeded in doing what some of the larger road attractions have failed to do, that is, playing these comedy successes in such a way as to please the entire audience. Time and time again, the witty lines of the piece rocked the house with laughter. The plot of the play involves a young man who has his last dollar upon the stock market, and who must cover a margin of five thousand dollars by the next morning. To do this, he prepares a fake wedding for the benefit of his Uncle Dudley who is expected to arrive from the west and has promised to give him a goodly amount, if he is married. The efforts of the bride and the groom to appear much married before the uncle and the aunt, especially at bedtime, brings forth much laughter and amusing incidents. To find that they are really married in the end, and the way the groom gets the money from his uncle, brings a thrilling climax. Miss Maude Tomlinson, as the bride, does some excellent work. B. L. Dickson, as the groom, gave a very credible performance. and Jack Brooks, as the friend in need, caused much laughter and was easily at home in his role. The rest of the company were very good in their respective parts and had been adroitly chosen. The Brooks Stock company will present "The Woman He Bought" to night and "When a Woman Loves" for matinee and night tomorrow. Although this ends their engagement here, they will return for five days Thanksgiving week, starting Monday, November 22, with all new plays.

PEASANTS THE MOST INFLUENTIAL CLASS IN BULGAR NATION

Most Powerful Political and Industrial Factor in the Government

SOFIA, Bulgaria.—Probably no other European country offers a more striking example of the rule of the peasants or farmers than Bulgaria. Politically and industrially they are today the most powerful factors in the life of the nation. They enjoy a majority representation in the government, and the whole future of the country may be said to rest in their hands. Of the present cabinet of seven members, six are peasants, including M. Stamboliysky, the prime minister.

In the Bulgarian parliament there are 110 deputies who are "men of the soil." They call themselves the Agrarian party. The next strongest political group comprises less than 40 members. Not only do the peasants control the government, but the whole economic structure of the country has its basis in their toil. Bulgaria is an agricultural country. There is little manufacturing, mining or shipping. While the peasants are in power there is little danger of the ascendancy of bolshevism, for each inhabitant owns his own land and is content with what he has.

As the peasants have come into control, the professional politicians have passed out. The so-called intellectual classes have had their way, and the population is content now to give the peasants a chance. They are doing well. They have taken hold of the country at the most critical economic and financial period in its history and are making wonderful strides toward bringing the kingdom back to normal. Old-time politicians and statesmen are viewing the scene with amazement if not with admiration.

Led by their powerful leader, M. Stamboliysky, who is a man of great wisdom and practical common sense, the peasants are introducing many reforms and numerous innovations in the government. Perhaps the most novel scheme they have is the so-called Labor army, whose ranks include every able-bodied inhabitant of the country. The underlying principle of it is that every man above 20 and every woman above 18 shall contribute his or her proportionate share of labor to the reconstruction, development and improvement of the country. One group of workers, for example, give a certain part of their time to building of railways, bridges and roads, another to the drainage of lowlands or the development of irrigation, a third to improvement of the soil, a fourth to the study of governmental and administrative problems, and so on.

Another idea introduced by the peasants is the purchase and sale by the government, at minimum prices, of all things needed for the life of the people. This is intended as an emergency measure to relieve the present high prices and improve the rate of exchange. The purchasing is done largely in foreign markets and in such quantities as to insure the lowest prices. Distributing these goods direct to the consumer, the government eliminates the middle man, and the people get the goods at the lowest prices.

Conductor Overtook His Train
An automobile and an aeroplane were recently pressed into emergency service by a dining car conductor, W. Shields, on train No. 49 of the Southern Pacific, running from Los Angeles, Calif., to San Francisco, when his train left him at Fresno. A chase of two miles in an automobile was a failure and Mr. Shields, seeing an aeroplane preparing to ascend from a nearby field, hurried over and explained his predicament to the pilot. The race ended at Chowchilla, where the train stopped, and Mr. Shields boarded the diner in time to attend the breakfast service.

Ladybugs For the French Fields
The grain fields of France are to be battle grounds for mortal combat between the locusts, an insect which is threatening to devastate large cultivated areas here, and the Australian ladybug, known to scientists as the plained his predicament to the pilot. The race ended at Chowchilla, where the train stopped, and Mr. Shields boarded the diner in time to attend the breakfast service.

The Slaughter of the Innocents

"Three and a half million children call to the heart and resources of America for these daily supplies, not available in their own countries, that are vital to their survival and to the rebuilding of their physical well-being."

"Our resources will be exhausted in January."

"We must not step aside and permit the spectre of death, in the form of hunger and cold to haunt these helpless ones this winter, yet we can not continue without help."

"This is a charge on the American heart, and America can not fail in her solicitude for these little ones."

"Twenty-three million dollars must be raised without delay, and remembering the new heart you put into the Commission for Relief in Belgium in the dark hours of 1916, I come to you again."

(Signed) HERBERT HOOVER.

From a letter to The Literary Digest.

In immediate response the following editorial was published in The Literary Digest of Oct. 30th:

WHEN JESUS CHRIST CAME

upon the earth, nearly two thousand years ago, to save all mankind, his mere coming seemed to interfere with the material interests of a few people of that period, notably King Herod, who promptly decided to dispose of this "interloper," and sent forth his soldiers with orders to slay all the children of two years old and under. Thus was consummated the most atrocious crime against innocent childhood ever committed up to that time. It has come down to us through all the ages in song and story, and master painters have pictured it on marvelous canvases.

To-day passing in review, as we look out through the windows of our comfortable homes in this great and happy land, are three and a half millions of helpless children, the innocent victims of the greatest war that has ever afflicted humanity. It matters not, as we gaze in the direction of these children, that our eyes must stretch across three thousand miles of ocean, we still can see them and we still can hear them, if we wish to do so; and we can not help hearing the tragic appeal in their voices and seeing their tiny arms stretched out to us and their searching eyes looking into our souls, as they say, "Help us, or we perish." And if we fail to listen to this great call of three and a half millions of God's helpless children; if we close our eyes and ears to this great demand of duty, we shall be just as guilty of the "slaughter of the innocents" as was Herod, nearly two thousand years ago.

In these lands, swept by death, and filled with tragedies too deep for tears, a sum of human suffering is being written greater perhaps than for all ages gone by. The mind grows numb and the heart sick from a constant recital of tales of such tragedy as it is difficult to believe the twentieth century could hold.

And so, when we received a letter from Mr. Hoover, telling us that America must not allow death in the form of hunger and cold to come to these 3,500,000 helpless children our soul was stirred and the hot blood surged up in our heart. We felt it was our imperative duty to use all the power God has given us to aid this noble-hearted American in continuing the work of saving human lives to which he has devoted unsparingly, and at great personal sacrifice, his tremendous energy and administrative genius during the past six years, in which time he and his American colleagues have administered two billions of dollars of relief funds from all parts of the world with a total overhead expense of only three-eighths of one per cent., with no remuneration to the American directors. Now he asks us all to help save the children who are in imminent danger of starvation this coming winter.

There they are, in the midst of wrecked homes, and farms, and factories; in cities crowded with masses of refugees without sustaining food for children, through the destruction of live stock; seeds for planting, raw materials, tools, and machinery gone; great areas with everything burned, or looted, or smashed; vast unemployment for workers; no means of subsistence; a land of economic ruin, of mutilated life, and lingering death, and in the midst of it all—the little children.

In long lines they are waiting at the American food-kitchens. Will the food be there for them? Will they be turned away? There are no happy, healthy faces in those long lines—not one. You have seen rags and barefooted children, but never so many little boys and girls literally dressed in tatters. Soon it will be very cold, and for those bare little feet and legs and arms there is nothing at home to put on.

Hollow faces and shrunken bodies are so common that their real condition does not become evident until we inquire more closely, and then we find that most of them are from one to five years back in their growth. Children of eight years old have not reached the normal size of two and a half. They are just learning to stand alone. Others almost as old can not yet stand on their feet. Their arms, and legs, and spines, and chests are twisted and warped. The flesh and skin are shriveled on their bones. It is surprising that life can still exist there. If they can have food they will gradually regain their health and strength, but with most of them it is a question of now or never. Starvation and tuberculosis will not wait.

In Poland alone a million five hundred thousand such children must be cared for. In Latvia and Esthonia the people are living mostly on a diet made from potato-flour, oat-flour, and sawdust. In Czecho-Slovakia, in Hungary, in Austria, and in other countries of central and southeastern Europe, two millions more are in dire need of food; and who stops to ask regarding creed, or race, or nationality when a little child is starving? Children are just children—the world over, and the great American heart is big enough to care for them all.

But the appeal now is not for all. The three and a half millions of children in immediate danger of starvation, if this organization fails, who must have food at once, are only a fraction of the total number. The hungry children of those destitute countries have been examined by competent physicians, and only those whose wasted little bodies are reduced to the minimum weight, and whose endurance of hunger has reached the end which merges into actual starvation, are admitted to the American kitchens and given one meal a day. It is hard to turn away thousands of hungry boys and girls—to hear them ask, pleadingly, "Do I weigh too much?" "Am I not thin enough?" "Can't I come any more?" But this restricting of food to the extreme cases is compulsory, because there isn't enough for all.

And these neediest ones can not reach the kitchens through the cold winds and the snow barefooted and in the pitiful rags which form only a partial covering for their bodies. They must have clothes. Each outfit consists of one pair of warm woolen stockings, one pair of boots, and a little overcoat. This one meal a day; and these boots, stockings, and little coats can be supplied only if we give them. If we do not, the slaughter of the innocents by cold and starvation will be appalling.

Among the more than two million men and women who will read this page there is not one—there can not be a single one—whose heart will not respond gladly and eagerly to the challenge of this great need. We are asked, you with us, to co-operate with Mr. Hoover in raising twenty-three million dollars to feed and clothe these children and save them from death this winter. It can be done. It shall be done! THE LITERARY DIGEST knows its readers and the deep earnestness, the quick sympathy, the great-hearted generosity they always show when any real human need calls to them. You have never been called upon in vain. We are counting on you now with a great confidence. We know, also, how truly you represent the American spirit, which beats in the hearts of a hundred and three millions more in this big land of plenty, a spirit which leaps ready at every such call, and is never weary in well-doing. We are not a hermit nation, isolated from the world, when suffering and want cry out to us from anywhere under the sun. A great, a beautiful and heart-sustaining hope supports these stricken people—America will come to their relief. For in the far places of the earth, where famine stalks, one name and one alone is synonymous with rescue and hope—and that name is America.

The small individual unit of ten dollars will provide the coat and boots and stockings and one meal a day for one child this winter. We urge our readers—we urge every one whose eyes are on these words—to give quickly as many of these units as possible, to buy for themselves that precious and priceless thing, the life of a little child—as many of them as they can, and every one will be a shining star in an eternal crown. It was the Divine Love of little children, who came to earth as a little child, and who reigns now as the king of Glory, who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me." He does not forget, nor fail to reward.

So deeply do we ourselves feel the urgency of this great need, knowing all the facts, that we should feel a heavy burden of guilt if we did not go beyond anything we have felt possible heretofore in order to save these innocent children from suffering and death. Therefore, THE LITERARY DIGEST will start this fund with the sum of $25,000 to feed and clothe twenty-five hundred little boys and girls this winter. What an inspiration it will be to all of us—what an inspiration and example to many thousands who may be uncertain how much to give—if in the very first week there shall be a great shower of checks for $1,000, for $5,000, for $10,000, as well as a deluge of smaller amounts, to send the fund rolling on toward the necessary twenty-three millions. Let us all see again what the father's heart is like in this great rich land of America. Let us have again a wondrous revelation of the heart of American motherhood. Let us have a great outpouring of love and helpfulness in the name of Him who said, "Feed my lambs."

President-Elect Harding, in a Great-Hearted Response, Sets an Example for all Americans

In the midst of the flood of telegrams, telephone calls, and election returns pouring in upon him from every part of the United States, Mr. Harding turned from it all to write and dispatch the following telegram from his home:

THE LITERARY DIGEST, NEW YORK CITY:—

I have just now read your splendid appeal to the people of America in behalf of three and a half millions of unfortunate children in Central and Southeastern Europe who are the helpless victims of the Great War. Because such a movement for relief reveals the true heart of America, because it bespeaks an American desire to play a great people's part in relieving and restoring God's own children, I want to commend and support your noble undertaking. In seeking God's blessing for ourselves I am sure He will bless us the more abundantly if we share our good fortune in acts of sympathy and human fellowship. I wish you a success which will reveal anew the unselfishness of our great people. I am forwarding you my check for two thousand five hundred dollars by mail today.

Marion, Ohio, November 4, 1920.

The Screen

AT THE THEATERS TODAY

Rivoli—Anita Stewart in "Harriet and the Piper."
 Majestic—Why Change Your Wife?
 A Cecil B. DeMille production.
 Riviera—Corinne Griffith in "The Fighting Terror."
 Strand—Ethel Clayton in "The Ladder of Lies."

RIVOLI
 Anita Stewart, who says she doesn't know exactly how many times she has been married on the screen, was wedded to her first husband, the late William DeMille, in her latest film, "Harriet and the Piper," now showing at the Rivoli theater.
 The first of these cinema weddings was to Ward Crane, who plays the part of a leader of the gay Bohemian life of Greenwich village. She is a lawless, free love ceremony, and of course didn't count. The second was to Charles Richmond, who plays the part of a rich, successful, and eminently respectable family. But even that marriage had an unromantic beginning.
 Harriet Field, played by Anita, awakes to a realization of her error just in time and flees from her Greenwich village husband. She becomes a governess in the home of Richard Carter, and when his wife is killed in an accident while eloping with another man, she consents to marry Carter to relieve him of the responsibility of his household and the care of his two children with the understanding that she will be left as free as a bird when her genuine love and happiness grow out of Harriet's empty romance of Greenwich village is revealed in a fascinating manner by the film version of Kathleen Norris' story.
 Lloyd Hamilton in his latest comedy, "Duck Inn," and "Topics of the Day" complete the program.

MAJESTIC
 Photoplay fans who recall the luxurious beauty of Gloria Swanson in "Male and Female" will hardly recognize her in the opening scenes of the new Cecil B. DeMille production, "Why Change Your Wife?" which is the attraction at the Majestic theater the balance of the week.
 Miss Swanson has the role of a too wise wife, who neglects her beauty for her home, wears unbecoming clothes and horn-rimmed spectacles, and can't keep her husband home at night. Later, however, after friend husband, played by Thomas Meighan, has wandered off with a designing singer, she realizes what has lost him and forthwith blossoms like a rose into the bewitching Gloria as we usually know her.
 "Why Change Your Wife?" is a striking story of young married life by William DeMille, produced by Cecil B. DeMille on a luxurious scale and against a background of rare beauty.

RIVIERA
 Corinne Griffith appears as a vaudeville performer in "The Garter Girl," which will be shown at the Riviera theater today only. During the time her supporting company was being selected and the preliminary work aerobatics, which she introduces in the picture, and she brushed up on her stage dancing. Before she went in for motion pictures Miss Griffith was for a time a professional dancer. Before she began on the feature she took lessons daily from Alex. Kostoff, the famous Russian dancer of the Metropolitan Opera House. Her dancing will be one of the important features in the play.

BIJOU
 Just as prominent authors tend to become identified with certain titles or writers, so the leaders of the field of motion pictures producing are specialists in definite types of screen drama. Maurice Tourneur is an illustration. He is the master of film melodrama. His pictures are inevitably packed with exciting action.
 Moreover, Tourneur's pictures have "atmosphere." This was never more clearly demonstrated than in "The White Circle," his latest picture, which will be shown at the Bijou theater today and tomorrow. If you have read Stevenson's "The Pavilion on the Links," from which the photoplay was adapted, you know that the story depends for its effect largely upon the air of brooding mystery and violence that Stevenson was able to convey in his writing. Mr. Tourneur has translated this to the screen, and the thrill-

SULPHUR CLEARS UP ROUGH OR RED SKIN
 Face, Neck and Arms Easily Made Smooth, Says Specialist
 Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.
 It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Menthosulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

ing story of love and adventure on the lovely Scottish sand dunes lives vividly in pictures.
 The Obrecht Sisters' orchestra, have arranged a special musical program for this picture introducing an original novelty suitable for this picture.

STRAND
 Ethel Clayton has another of those attractive domestic roles which have characterized her last few pictures in "The Ladder of Lies," at the Strand theater last evening.
 The star is Edith Parrish, a magazine illustrator, who sees Peter Gordon, a friend, marry a shadowy feminine creature, Dora Leroy. In an endeavor to keep the information from Peter that his wife is carrying on an affair with another man, Edith draws suspicion upon herself. Thus she is under a cloud when Blaine, whom she really loves, comes along. However, a decent streak develops unexpectedly in Dora's admirer, Brent. He tells Blaine the truth and paves the way for Edith's happiness.
 Ethel Clayton brings a charm and winsomeness to "The Ladder of Lies" that makes it excellent entertainment. The other members of the cast are extremely well chosen. Clyde Fillmore playing the part of Peter and Irving Cummings as Blaine as ever in the role of the "heavy." Charles Meredith is the leading man and Jane Acker is Dora.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

Thousands and thousands of people say Peterson of Buffalo, Ark. learning every week that one 35 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the itching. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." B. E. Ewert, 1127 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis.

Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it. All orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

RHEUMATIC PAINS

Quickly Eased By Penetrating Hamlin's Wizard Oil

A safe and effective preparation to relieve the pains of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lame Back and Lumbago is Hamlin's Wizard Oil. It penetrates quickly, drives out the soreness, and limbers up the stiff aching joints and muscles.

Wizard Oil is a good dependable preparation to have in the medicine chest for first aid when the doctor may be far away. You will find almost daily uses for it in cases of sudden mishaps or accidents such as sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as reliable too, for earache, toothache and croup. Always keep it in the house.

CHANGE OF OWNERSHIP

The Resneck-Berger Co., having but recently purchased the stocks, fixtures and store lease of what was formerly known as the Pierce Stores Co., are now ready to show the people of La Crosse real honest-to-goodness values.

By locating in La Crosse we are bringing to this city a store connected with one of the very best chain of popular price ready-to-wear stores in the country. Our policy is to sell high grade women's and children's wearing apparel at the lowest possible price. Operating a large chain of stores, on a low expense and on a very close margin of profit, places us in a position to sell our merchandise from 25 to 33 1/3 % less than most stores.

Our ability to use merchandise in very large quantities, gives us a tremendous buying power. Manufacturers are always eager to give us their very lowest and best discounts, which we in turn share with our customers.

We invite you to visit this wonderful store, where you will be met by courteous and business-like salespeople, with a showing of women's wearing apparel at extremely low prices.

Women's Coats and Suits

At Extraordinary Low Prices

$14.90 $19.50 $24.50 $32.50 to $65

THE COATS

The Coats we are showing are made up of all that is newest in style and material, while the workmanship is from the leading and best garment makers in the country. Most of our coats are full silk lined with lining which will give good wear, too. Some of these coats come in the popular 36 inch length, while longer coats are very much in demand also.

These Coats were purchased at the current lower prices, therefore you can feel assured that the values we offer, can't be beat.

THE SUITS

Our line of Suits is something which we are indeed proud of. The Suits are made of tricotines, duvetynes, silvertones, French serge, yalama, gabardine. The colors are brown, reindeer, henna, pekin, copen, sealbrown, taupe, navy and black. All are silk lined and well tailored throughout. We have a large range of sizes, namely regular sizes 14 to 44 and stouts 45 to 51. We guarantee that every garment which leaves our store must be according to your entire satisfaction.

NO CHARGE FOR ALTERATIONS

New Fall SKIRTS

$5.90 $7.90 to $14.90

These skirts, made up the way they are and of such good materials, are truly wonderful values. Skirts made in the knife pleated, box pleated, accordion pleated styles; also the plainer and more tailored skirts with novelty pockets, embroidery, etc. All are brand new, of good materials and are very reasonably priced.

New Fall WAISTS

$3.48 $4.90 to $7.90

Just last week our buyer in New York sent to all stores, including La Crosse an assortment of waists which were originally intended to sell from $12.50 to $18.00. He bought them so that we could sell these $12 to $18 Waists at $7.90. This is not exaggeration, but cold facts. Just look at these waists and compare them with waists which are selling for more.

Other New Fall Waists $1.98, $3.48, $4.90 and up.
